World Hand Hygiene Day Hospital Infection Control Committee

"It might be gloves. It's always hand hygiene"

On May 5, 2025, World Hand Hygiene Day celebrated its 17th anniversary, alongside the World Health Organization's (WHO) 17th year of the global SAVE LIVES: Clean Your Hands campaign. The theme for this year, "It might be gloves. It's always hand hygiene," highlighted the importance of proper hand hygiene—even when gloves are worn—and aimed to raise awareness about the environmental impact of excessive glove use.

To mark the occasion, the Infection Prevention & Control (IPC) team at Christian Medical College Vellore, launched a range of competitions and refresher training sessions beginning in the first week of April 2025, held across its campuses. Activities included slogan writing, poster design, elocution, and video contests, all of which received enthusiastic participation from both staff and students. To further reinforce the message, themed badges and stickers were distributed to all healthcare providers, promoting a strong culture of hand hygiene throughout the institution.

The joint valedictory programme for the Town and Ranipet campuses, held on May 5th, began with a prayer by Mrs. Jisha, Chaplain. Dr. Rajiv Karthik, Deputy Chairman HIC, welcomed the gathering and highlighted the importance of hand hygiene. Felicitations were offered by Dr. David Mathew, Deputy Medical Superintendent, Mrs. Sheeba Nelson, Additional Deputy Dean of the College of Nursing and Mrs. Reena Rachel George, Deputy Nursing superintendent who highlighted the growing concern of hand hygiene fatigue, offering practical interventions to bridge existing compliance gaps. The programme concluded with vote of thanks delivered by Dr. Sarah, Asst. Professor & IPC Officer expressing gratitude to all participants and contributors.

Celebration in Chittoor Campus

The valedictory programme at the Chittoor campus, held on May 13th, opened with a prayer and Scripture reading by Rev. Ajay from the Chaplaincy Department. Dr. Reginald Alex, Deputy Medical Superintendent of CMC Vellore Chittoor Campus, served as the Chief Guest and spoke on the cultural and clinical importance of hand hygiene. He stressed the need for proper glove use alongside strict hand hygiene practices. Mrs. Sonia Sabu, Deputy Nursing Superintendent, shared her insights and extended her felicitations, presenting real-world clinical examples that underscored hand hygiene's role in infection control. The event concluded with a vote of thanks by Dr. Cheryl, Senior Resident and IPC Officer, who recognised all contributors and encouraged ongoing dedication to hand hygiene.

Highlight of the ceremony was the showcasing of award-winning videos, the reading of the top slogans, and the exhibition of impactful posters—all of which played a vital role in promoting hand hygiene awareness throughout the campuses.

CME and Workshop on Prevention of Cervical Cancer

The Department of Gynaecologic Oncology, in conjunction with the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology at CMC Vellore Chittoor campus, and in collaboration with the Association for Gynaecologic Oncology of India (AOGIN), successfully hosted a comprehensive CME and Workshop on the Prevention of Cervical Cancer on 6th May 2025. This event marked the first-ever Continuing Medical Education (CME) programme conducted at the Chittoor campus, reflecting the institution's shared commitment to eliminating the second most common cancer affecting Indian women.

The session commenced with an invocation, followed by an opening prayer. Dr. Annie Prashanthi, Head of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, CMC Chittoor, delivered the welcome address and introduced the esteemed guests of honor, including Dr. Alex Reginald, Deputy Medical Superintendent, CMC Chittoor; Dr. Anitha Thomas, Professor & Head of the Department of Gynaecologic Oncology, CMC Vellore; and Dr. Jayashree Natarajan, Professor, Adyar Cancer Institute.

Session I focused on the foundational aspects of cervical cancer prevention with insights into the etiopathogenesis, natural history of cervical cancer, the current burden of cervical cancer in the world, India and Tamil Nadu. Session II addressed the critical areas of HPV prophylactic vaccination, available screening modalities, guidelines, and current HPV testing methodologies and management.

Session III concentrated on clinical management following a positive screening test and the emerging role of artificial intelligence in cervical cancer prevention. The afternoon session commenced with a panel discussion, which was followed by an engaging and practical hands-on workshop on the management of pre-invasive disease of the cervix.

The CME was meant to train and equip general and family medicine practitioners, community medicine physicians and generally gynaecologists in screening for cervical cancer and refer or treat those with pre-invasive lesions of the cervix. The CME and workshop concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Dr. Dhanya Thomas. This collaborative initiative by CMC Chittoor and AOGIN India represents a significant step towards enhancing the knowledge and skills of healthcare professionals in the prevention of cervical cancer, ultimately contributing to improved women's health outcomes.

National Safe Motherhood Day

National Safe Motherhood Day is observed on 11th April every year. In commemoration of this day, a week-long health awareness programme was organised by Mrs. Reena V., M.Sc. Nursing Tutor, College of Nursing, CMC Vellore, Chittoor campus along with Obstetrics & Gynecology unit of CMC Vellore Chittoor Campus.

A series of awareness activities were conducted from April 7th to April 13th, 2025, targeting antenatal and postnatal mothers, as well as the general public. These activities took place in the OPD, patient waiting areas, and the postnatal ward of the Chittoor Campus. As part of the initiative, posters highlighting the theme “Equity in Maternal Healthcare: Leaving No Mother Behind” and educational models on perinatal care were displayed. Additionally, a role play was performed by B.Sc. Nursing III year students to engage and educate the audience. Patients, their attendants, and the general public actively participated and benefitted from the programme.

On April 9, 2025, an outreach programme under the scheme 'Pradhan Mantri Surakshit Matritva Abhiyan' (PMSMA) was organised in Bommasamudram PHC under the guidance of Mrs. Reena V & Mrs. Sophia Percy, M.Sc. Nursing Tutors jointly with the Medical Officer, Dr. Rashmita. B.Sc. Nursing III year students from the College of Nursing, CMC Vellore, Chittoor campus conducted a health education programme for the antenatal mothers by performing a role play, emphasising the importance of antenatal care, obstetric care, postnatal care, family planning, post abortion care and control of sexually transmitted diseases.

On the 11th April 2025, a public awareness programme was conducted in the patient waiting area of Chittoor Campus. Chief guest Mrs. Rajeswari Siva, former Professor and Head, Department of Community Health Nursing, College of Nursing, CMC Vellore addressed the gathering and emphasised on timely and quality maternity care and early detection and management of high-risk pregnancies to reduce the maternal and infant mortality rate. As part of the awareness activities, a puppet show focusing on Safe Motherhood practices was presented by B.Sc. Nursing III year students, capturing the attention of mothers and the general public alike. Educational models were also exhibited and explained to mothers attending the program, enhancing their understanding of maternal and perinatal care. Additionally, a slogan competition was organised for antenatal mothers, and prizes were distributed to encourage active participation and reinforce key health messages.

Lamp Lighting Ceremony at CMC Vellore, Chittoor Campus

The Lamp Lighting Ceremony for the sixth batch (B.Sc. Nursing - Batch of 2024) of the College of Nursing, CMC Vellore, Chittoor campus was held on 12th May 2025, in the Multipurpose Hall, College of Nursing, CMC Vellore, Chittoor campus. Forty nine first year B.Sc. Nursing students made a solemn promise and dedicated themselves to the nursing profession by lighting their lamps. The Chief Guest Dr. Selva Titus Chacko, the former Dean of College of Nursing, CMC Vellore, and the Dean, College of Nursing, Gulf Medical University, Ajman, U.A.E. addressed the students and uplifted their spirit with her inspiring message. She emphasised that CMC graduates are rooted in the core values that help them make a difference in the society.

She motivated the students to carry the legacy of CMC wherever they are placed and to demonstrate clinical efficiency and ethical soundness in their practice. Mrs. Nirmala Margaret P, Principal, College of Nursing, CMC Vellore, Chittoor campus gave charge to the young nursing students and highlighted the significance of the tradition of College of Nursing, CMC's Lamp Lighting Ceremony. She urged the students to let their light of compassion, care and commitment shine in the darkest moment of others' lives.

Dr. K.S. Jacob, Former Professor & Head, Department of Psychiatry, CMC Vellore, and the Consultant Psychiatrist, CMC Vellore, Chittoor campus was the Guest of Honour who addressed the students and lit the Florence Nightingale lamp which was handed over to the Principal. He motivated the young budding nurses to update their knowledge and practice and to develop an inclination towards continuous learning. He focused on the greater need for research in the current healthcare scenario and encouraged nurses to initiate research activities. Mrs. Alice Sony, Nursing Superintendent, CMC Vellore, and Mrs. Nirmala Margaret P, Principal, passed on the lamps to the students. Rev. Finney Alexander, Head of Chaplaincy, CMC Vellore offered prayer of dedication and benediction. The programme was attended by the Administrative Officers of CMC Vellore and Chittoor Campus, Dean and Faculty from College of Nursing, Medical and Nursing staff of Chittoor Campus, Chaplains and parents of students from Batch 2024.
